I am strongly in favor of allowing third parties to finance solar installations. These solar installations have proven to work in thousands of residential and business installations despite some troublesome hurdles lobbied for by the utilities. The source of the funding of the solar installation and the other details are not materially significant to our state's obligation to the utilities and should be allowed.

Thank you for your consideration of my comments,

I am writing to praise NC Warn for trying to help a church to become more energy efficient with the use of solar power. It seems that Duke Energy is not so inclined to do this kind of work. I am referencing docket SP-100 Sub 31. We need to do all in our power to fight global warming so that future generations will have a safe world to live in.

Don't let Duke Energy block access to rooftop solar! We need clean energy, not what Duke power is providing.

I support the efforts of NC Warn and Faith Community Church to end Duke Energy's monopoly on energy usage in this state, especially along the lines of solar power. The state of NC should support efforts which strengthen the lives of NC citizens and not being the steward of corporations who interest is financial profit. This monopoly is not beneficial to the stat state of NC.

Don't let Duke Energy block access to rooftop solar!

NC WARN's mission urgency is to induce Charlotte-based Duke Energy – now the world's largest corporate utility – to make a strong shift to clean, affordable energy in order to stem pollution's damage to communities, and to help avert climate tipping points and ongoing rate hikes.

Break the monopoly!

Good morning,

I am writing in reference to Docket SP-100 Sub 31. I was appalled when I heard Duke Energy was seeking fines from NC WARN for putting solar panels on the roof of the Faith Community Church. This is wrong in so many ways, so I will keep my statement brief and only mention one issue.

Doing what NC WARN and the Faith Community Church have done is as in line with the "American Spirit" as anything. We should absolutely have the right to use solar power that reaches our roofs and do as we like with the electricity we generate. If somebody is willing to buy it, we should be able to sell it. It is simple economics and that should not be against the law. It is only natural that Duke energy will try to squash their competitors, and there would be nothing wrong with this if they weren't a state-mandated monopoly. Unfortunately, they are and the state has a huge decision to make with this case. They can either prop up a utility that is failing to provide the services its consumers desire (renewable energy), or the state can provide and environment for small businesses to flourish by opening up the market for renewable energy. Please rule in favor of NC WARN and the Faith Community Church and make a stronger tomorrow for North Carolina.

Thank you,
Joshua Lobe

Please do the right thing. Find in favor for NC WARN and Faith Community Church.

Duke is a monopoly and should not be allowed to prohibit the citizens of North Carolina from having a choice. Citizens like myself want alternative clean energy. Duke is not willing to provide roof top solar arrays in my community and many others. Since Duke is not willing or able to offer citizens that choice, they should not be allowed to block us from purchasing solar energy from another provider.

Please don't allow Duke to continue imposing their will (and profit margin) on NC citizens!

While there may be legally-nuanced arguments on either side of this case, it is also the job of this body to provide leadership to our city and our state. Whatever your decision is, please be sure that after it is made, that you will feel comfortable going home to your children or family, and are able to still tell them that you did the right thing. And that when this decision is cited to support future decisions in our state, I hope that it will be the right choice, and not the easy choice. Best of luck to you.

Sincerely,
John Kelley

Please let solar energy thrive in NC. You can't get much cleaner than solar energy. The time is now to allow the people to choose their energy source and stop the dirty use of fossil fuels.

Thank you for your attention,

Good morning. This is my humble support for SP 100 - Sub 31 allowing individuals to have rooftop solar. This country claims we support free capitalism, yet is this monopoly (Duke) allowed to squelch that? Unthinkable! Our government claims to support clean energy and renewable alternatives. Then how can is it possible to not support rooftop solar? Rather than Duke spending money to fight this, or build fossil fuel enterprises, it is my opinion that money would be better spent on wind or solar options.

Thank you for listening.

Duke Energy wants 100% of the utility market and is doubling down on its business model to squelch the tiniest competition from a church that chooses solar. Allow third party sales from one non-profit to another non-profit on a rooftop solar installation.

Duke Energy is rapacious and alarmingly focused on stifling ANY movement from oil and gas to clear, renewable fuels. Shameful.

I am writing to ask that NC Warn not be fined for providing solar energy to Faith Community Church in Greensboro.

We need more clean energy options and one company, Duke Energy, should not have a monopoly on energy sales.

Let's get North Carolina off the list of the handful of states than ban third-party energy sales and open clean energy and affordable solar solutions to benefit citizens of North Carolina.

Thank you
