Duke Energy has made billions of dollars for their stockholders while allowing dirty coal ash to pile up in unsafe conditions. Now they want us average citizens to pay the bill. I say they should cut the profits to their shareholders and use that money to pay for the cleanup, which definitely needs to happen. Or, at least pay for a big part of it. Thanks for what you do to control the rates in our utilities. Please let this be about Duke paying it's fair share and not just foisting all the payment for coal ash to the average citizen. Sincerely, Michael Kohnle
